

Alexey Chumak

Trainee / Junior Frontend Developer

Front-end development for me is not just a profession, it is my old dream and favorite activity, which I devote every free minute to! I plan to develop as much as possible in this direction and become an incredibly competent full-stack developer who solves all the tasks! My motivation is to become the best in my field, because this will allow me to realize myself as a successful person and contribute to the development of the company I work for! Ready to move, travel and recycle.
